 - a. October- Respect

Tessa Reese	Zayden Williams	Skylar Yezzi
Tessa is a model of respect. She always considers the feelings of others, and never does or says things that might hurt someone else's feelings. Tessa is attentive during class and consistently shows respect by listening to others, not interrupting, and giving help to others when she can. Tessa is a good friend to all.	Zayden has great manners. He holds the door for his peers and helps when he can. If Zayden makes a mistake, like bumping into someone, he always apologizes and makes up for his mistake. Zayden is always polite to his teachers and peers, always saying please and thank you. He also keeps his space and things clean and organized and is always prepared. Zayden is a great example of what a respectful student is.	Skylar is always respectful to adults and her peers. She walks into school with a smile on her face and always says good morning to the people around her. She also is a helping hand to younger students who need to find their class in the morning.

Highlighted Staff Member–September

Jeff Galda

- How long have you been a teacher?
 - I have been a teacher for 24 years
- How long have you worked at Gibbsboro School?
 - I am in my 19th year at Gibbsboro
- What is one of your hidden talents?
 - I don't know if there is any hidden talent. I try to share what I can do
- What are some traditions or superstitions you have for the First Day of School?
 - I am always extra early on the first day of school
- What inspires you?
 - So many things inspire me. I am inspired by seeing people that really care about people and care in general about what they do. There is an endless list of these people that have had an impact on my life in that way.
- What's the best/worst thing about being a teacher?
 - It is all good to me. Other than being a father/husband, it is the best thing I have ever done in my life.
- If you could pass on any wisdom to your students, what would you share?
 - Be Kind, Work Hard, Do Your Best, and Be Resilient
- If you could take the students on a field trip to anywhere in the world, where would you take them?
 - No trips for me. But, I hope all the students come back and tell me about all the great places they have gone in their lives.
