Christopher Hanson	Mason Hignutt	Cole Deterding
Christopher shows service each day in the classroom by offering to hold the door each day for the students in the class. He helps students to tie their shoes, and is always offering to help other students when possible.	Mason demonstrates service every day as he is always looking to help those in need. Both students in his class, and those around the building. He has such a big heart and is there to help out with work, a favor, or a good laugh!	Cole is not my morning safety, however, he comes into my classroom every morning to take our student chairs down. I have never asked him to do this. He self initiated this service because he noticed the need one morning when I was taking down all the chairs myself.
